

“The Power of You!”

Stretch...it's spring, and time to exercise and naturally raise our serotonin and endorphin levels. As you know, they promote happiness and a sense of well being. So, how does that relate to you, or EagleBank, or banking in general?

We recently invited our employees to an after-hours, all-employee meeting, with the intention of announcing a new sales and service effort to s-t-r-e-t-c-h our abilities and capabilities to better serve our customers. It was to be your basic sales and service rally and social function to introduce a customer service training initiative. Fortunately, some valuable truths surfaced as we planned this presentation and searched for a theme.

You do your best when you are happy. Your job is easier when you like what you do. Nothing makes you feel better about yourself and your organization than helping others.

Perfect. As bankers, we enjoy feeling good, every day, because we have the expertise and power to help people every day. We listen first, assess needs second, then apply our ability and product knowledge to offer financial solutions. Financial solutions for starting a business, growing a business or just running it more efficiently through better cash management or online services. Solutions for helping individuals and families find the best options for financing their dream house. Solutions that help people bank, pay bills or access their financial information quicker, safer and more efficiently online. Our business is positive, upbeat and smile-inducing. We have the power to help people where it really counts—in their pocketbooks or in their Accounting Departments.

For this employee initiative, which we named “The Power of You,” we presented a video of upbeat music and smiling employee faces throughout the bank's front and back offices. Employees were reminded of how good they are at what they do and how they make it possible for us to grow customer relationships, grow our bank, and be able to report excellent earnings in a difficult financial environment. But most of all, we reminded them of how good it feels, personally, doing what we do best, helping people and businesses with their finances.

It is spring, and we're doing our stretching exercises...stretching to give you more and better solutions and service. And if it takes a little dark chocolate, sunlight and B vitamins to help raise endorphin and serotonin levels, we'll add that to the mix. Thanks for making us feel good by allowing us to serve your banking needs.

Sincerely,

Thomas D. Murphy, President of Retail Banking

Ron Paul One of "25 CEOs You Need to Know"

CEO/Chairman Ron Paul was named by the Gazette of Politics and Business newspaper as one of "25 CEOs You Need To Know." A team of business experts at the Gazette selected this group of outstanding leaders. Ron and the other 24 CEOs were honored at a luncheon on May 13 and featured in the newspaper's May 27th edition. Instead of a regular head shot, our CEO was photographed (below) with the newest addition to our corporate headquarters. A giant bronze eagle sculpture now guards the walk-up and drive-up windows at 7815 Woodmont Avenue (Corporate Headquarters) in Bethesda, Maryland.

report record financial results for the first quarter of 2010," noted Ronald D. Paul, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Eagle Bancorp, Inc. "Our financial results reflect the Company's ability and desire to continue lending in its marketplace, as evidenced by a 13% increase in loans over the past twelve months; our ability to continue building new and existing client relationships, as evidenced by a 29% increase in deposits in the past twelve months; and favorable asset quality measures with the first quarter of 2010 being the fourth successive quarter of declining non-performing assets to 1.36% of total assets." Mr. Paul further noted "the Company's profitability in the first quarter of 2010 resulted in improved returns on average assets and average common equity while also maintaining a very strong total risk based capital ratio of 13.50% at March 31, 2010, well above regulatory well capitalized measures."

At March 31, 2010, total assets were $1.83 billion compared to $1.50 billion at March 31, 2009, a 23% increase. Total deposits increased 29% during the first quarter of 2010, to $1.48 billion as compared to $1.15 billion at March 31, 2009, while total loans increased 13% to $1.43 billion at March 31, 2010, from $1.27 billion at March 31, 2009. Total borrowed funds, which include customer repurchase agreements, decreased to $157.1 million at March 31, 2010 from $193.1 million at March 31, 2009, a 19% decrease, as substantial growth in lower cost core deposits was used to reduce alternative funding sources.

Average loans increased $55 million and average deposits increased $91 million during the three months ended March 31, 2010, as compared to the three months ended December 31, 2009. In addition, at March 31, 2010, the Company had a high level of loan commitments which carried over the end of the quarter. Of these commitments, $45 million were funded in the first week of April 2010. The increase in average loans in the first quarter of 2010 as compared to the fourth quarter of 2009 is primarily attributable to growth in commercial real estate income producing and commercial and industrial loans. Increases in average deposits in the first quarter of 2010 as compared to the fourth quarter of 2009 are primarily attributable to non interest bearing and money market deposits.

With Security in Mind: How Secure are Your Passwords?

To make your passwords as secure as possible, here are some tips. Start by making them as difficult to guess and as long as possible. Use a combination of words and letters, and where allowed, some symbols (like ?!:@$#*+&). You can also use a mix of upper and lower case letters. If possible, use at least eight characters. The more creative you get, the more difficult it will be for hackers to figure it out. Good luck...and get creative!

The contest was open to all tenants of 1425 K Street, the address of our branch. Resident contestants had to wear green or a creative Earth Day costume. Shawn Murphy of the McPherson Square office recites the award-winning poem the branch submitted at the Earth Day Celebration at their K Street office location.

*Earth gives us fire,
Earth gives us air,
A beauty we admire,
So full and so fair.
Earth gives us sand,
Soil, gravel and grass,
Home to Man, talented and true,
Nourishment in our future, present
and past.
Earth gives us water,
Earth gives us rain,
If we're not careful, Earth won't remain.*

*Please don't pollute the Earth.
Please recycle all of your trash.
This will be the only chance,
That the Earth will have to last.*

*Happy Earth Day from EagleBank's
McPherson Square Office*
